Introducing Oblivion

Dhruv Singh, better known by his musical moniker, Oblivion, was born in Delhi, India. He grew up listening to a variety of musicians and genres that have played an influential role in shaping his signature sound. Since childhood, he was passionate about music and started learning piano. Now, as a musician, he aims to offer something different and unique to his fans by creating and sharing original music.

Oblivion is currently signed to 2 international record labels with numerous releases worldwide and has performed alongside multiple reputed DJ's at different venues across Delhi, India.

For some, music is just a way to let out a little bit of energy, but for Oblivion it's so much more than that—it's a way of life.
